HOW TO USE THE B50 CHARGER

To charge the headset using an electrical outlet select the AC power cord (B).

To charge the headset using your vehicle's auxiliary power outlet select the mobile power cord (C).

Refer to Components and Features at left.

1. First, plug your chosen power cord into the B50's power cord port (F). Plug the AC power cord into an electrical outlet or plug the mobile power cord into your vehicle's auxiliary power outlet.

2. You will see a pale green light (E) on the face of the charger indicating that the charger is receiving power.

3. Connect your BlueParrott headset to the charger by inserting the charge contact (D) into the headset as shown. The indicator light (E) will shine brighter after headset is attached.

Charge time yields approximately the same amount of talk time, up to six hours. Therefore a one hour charge time will yield about one hour of talk time, and so on. When the headset is fully charged the indicator light on the headset will turn bright green. It is not necessary to wait for a full charge before using the headset. Total talk time on a full charge equals six hours. Remove headset from charger when you wish to stop charging the headset. It is not necessary to unplug the charger when it is not in use.
